India - Kids for Mission

SUPPORT RAISED

INDIA

GOAL

International Ministries seeks to raise $45,000 to provide goats to indigenous families in Northeast India.

SUMMARY

This project seeks to provide young goats to needy families to provide a self-sustaining source of nourishment. Each family that receives a goat commits to pass on the first female offspring to another family to multiply the blessings and improve the quality of life in the broader community.

DESCRIPTION

Northeast India is populated by hundreds of indigenous tribal groups, each with its own unique language and culture. Much of this remote region is yet untamed with dense jungle, wild elephants and rhinoceros. Braving the dangers and discomfort of rainforest heat and humidity, the hazards of travel and often opposition to their message, church planters venture to share the news of Jesus' love and life-giving sacrifice with those who haven't heard the gospel.

You can partner with these ministers of the word and enable them to offer life-sustaining assistance through the gift of a goat. A young goat, or kid, helps meet the villagers' basic needs for food and better nutrition. A goat is a tangible expression of Christ's love.
