White Cross – Nepal Hospital and Medical Camp Supplies

SUPPORT RAISED

NEPAL

GOAL

International Ministries seeks to raise $6,000 for White Cross in Nepal

SUMMARY

This project seeks to raise $6,000 to provide medical supplies for the Chaurjahari Hospital and medical camps in Nepal.

DESCRIPTION

Human Development and Community Services (HDCS) is a Christian NGO that works in health, education and community development in Nepal. It offers free medical services through medical camps outside the Kathmandu Valley in communities that lack access to health care facilities.

HDCS also operates the Chaurjahari Hospital in Kathmandu, which serves an estimated 700,000 people. Having enough medical supplies for the hospital and medical camps is always a struggle, but HDCS believes the camps are a valuable way to enhance the hospital's relationship with communities and to provide vital health education that can prevent further disease.

For example, a child can receive free orthopedic surgery at the HDCS Chaurjahari Hospital in Kathmandu. Without White Cross funding, the surgery would not have been affordable for the family.

It is anticipated this project will make health care more accessible for those most at risk in the western regions of Nepal served by the HDCS Chaurjahari Hospital and its medical camps outside the Kathmandu Valley.

This project will be managed by Dil Bahadur Giri, administration manager of the hospital.
